

Aviation Suppliers Association
2233 Wisconsin Ave. NW, Suite 503
Washington, DC 20007
www.aviationsuppliers.org

Contact: Michele Dickstein
Michele@aviationsuppliers.org
(202) 347-6896

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

October 1, 2009

Graham Mitchell Elected to ASA Board of Directors

Washington, DC - ASA welcomes Graham Mitchell, Global Quality & Warehousing Director, Aero Inventory (UK) Limited, as a new member of the ASA Board of Directors.

Graham is the Global Warehousing and Quality Director of Aero Inventory (UK) Ltd, a global Inventory Management company with more than 20 facilities worldwide. Their major customers currently include Aveos, ANA, GMF, Qantas, Heaco and SR Technics. He has worldwide responsibility for Quality Assurance and Warehousing and direct Management of the European Distribution Center in the UK. AI currently has facilities in UK, USA, Canada, Ireland, Switzerland, Hong Kong, China, Indonesia, Japan and Australia. Twelve of these facilities are now certified to ISO9001 in accordance with FAA 00-56A with a program to achieve certification of the remaining facilities ongoing.

His main focus today is the control of the considerable company growth and standardisation of parts supply to all existing and future customers worldwide. Graham works to streamline the differences in Airworthiness regulations between different countries to which AI supply. Graham has 28 years experience within the aviation industry and before moving to Aero Inventory worked for Lucas Aerospace and Dunlop Aircraft Tyres Limited. He has considerable knowledge and working experience of JAR21, JAR145, FAR145, EASA part 21 and 145. With Lucas Aerospace and Dunlop Aircraft Tyres Limited, he held numerous Quality Assurance positions, and at Lucas achieved one of the first single multi-site approvals to JAR145 for the whole company.

He has been an active member of the ASA since joining Aero Inventory 5 years ago and is currently a QA Committee voting member. He has actively worked on the subcommittee to internationalise ASA-100 and has represented Aero Inventory at all ASA meetings during this period. He is passionate about the Aerospace Industry and is always seeking ways to improve the supply chain in the interests of flight safety. Graham holds a B.Eng in Engineering and also actively engages with EASO (European Aviation Suppliers Organisation) and sits on the Executive Council of the IFA (International Federation of Airworthiness).

Robert (Bob) Hogan, Pratt & Whitney; Greg McGowan, Boeing Commercial Airplanes; and Roy Resto, Tracer Corp., were re-elected. ASA thanks all four men and their companies for their commitment to ASA and the industry.

About the Aviation Suppliers Association

The Aviation Suppliers Association (ASA) is a not-for-profit trade association, representing companies that buy and sell aircraft parts. ASA focuses on regulatory and legal matters that affect the aviation parts supply industry. Member companies include distributors, suppliers, surplus sales organizations, repair stations, manufacturers, air carriers and other companies that provide a service to the aviation parts supply industry. ASA proudly promotes safety, regulatory compliance and ethical business practices among aviation parts suppliers and throughout the aviation community.

About Aero Inventory (UK) Limited

Aero Inventory is a service provider to companies in the aerospace industry, providing a comprehensive procurement and inventory management service.

They focus on the hundreds of thousands of consumable and expendable parts required in the maintenance of commercial aircraft and e-based systems are complemented by on-site representation and 24-hour customer support. They aim to grow the business by securing contracts with additional customers who can benefit operationally and financially from their services, including airlines and aerospace maintenance and repair companies.

Aero Inventory's ultimate goal is to become the world's leading aircraft consumable parts service provider.

Aero Inventory is listed on the Alternative Investment Market of the London Stock Exchange with operations in the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, China, Bahrain, Hong Kong, Indonesia, Japan, Switzerland and the United States of America.

To learn more about Aero Inventory (UK) Limited please visit their web site at:

www.aeroinventory.com